Kenny Brown Super Street Cage™ for 1979–1993 Mustang and Cobra

Wauconda, IL -- Kenny Brown reintroduces his popular Super Street Cage™ product line for 1979-1993 Mustangs. This innovative product has been a key structural component of Kenny Brown Mustangs and a popular do it yourself product for many years and we are happy to have it back.

Kenny Brown Super Street Cages™ work as an inner skeleton in late model Mustangs and Cobras to reinforce the center and rear sections of the car and provide additional torsional load support. Alone or combined with Kenny's popular Matrix Sub-frame system, the street cage significantly reduces unwanted power-robbing chassis flex and body/chassis distortion.

Super Street Cages™ tie eight critical points of the chassis together in an attractive and functional design. They also add chassis stiffness and support for superior performance and weight transfer; improving traction, braking, handling and ride quality without compromising ingress, egress, or interior occupant/cargo space.

Super Street Cages™ are engineered for quality, superior functionality, ease of installation and are backed by a lifetime warranty for workmanship and materials. They are finished in an attractive and durable black wrinkle powder coat finish, come complete with hardware, instructions and renowned Kenny Brown Performance Tech Support.

Super Street Cages™ for 1979-1993 Mustangs, along with other world-class chassis and suspension components for the popular fox-body platform are available through authorized Kenny Brown Performance Parts Dealers or by calling Kenny Brown Performance direct – (855) 847-4477.

About Kenny Brown – Kenny Brown, a 25 year veteran in the Mustang performance aftermarket, is legendary for building some of the most technically advanced Ford Mustangs in North America. His critically-acclaimed AGS (Advanced Geometry Suspension) high performance suspension components for street and track-day Mustangs are some of the best and most innovative in the aftermarket. Kenny is a well-known celebrity in the Ford aftermarket and has played a critical role in Mustang racing heritage and new product development since 1986.
