LS Oil Pans with Added Front Clearance

Bowling Green, KY-- Holley's original LS Retro-Fit oil pan has been hugely popular and this new pan (P/N 302-2) has all the same attributes plus a redesigned front to give additional clearance. It provides maximum clearance for vehicles where the steering linkage is behind the engine crossmember.

Like the original, these factory-style cast aluminum pans use factory gaskets, filter mounting, cooler ports and provide structural rigidity like a factory pan. They come with an oil baffle as well as pump pickup, and specialty racing baffles are available separately.

Holley is quickly becoming the go to source for LS engine swap related components and high performance LS engine parts.

Also be sure to check out their annual Holley LS Fest in Bowling Green, KY each September. See all of the products and details on the Ultra HP Product Page look for products that read "FOR E85 FUEL ONLY" and click on the photo until it is as large as possible then right click to save.
