

M2 Machines Readies 1:24-Scale Batch of Lunati® Bootlegger Die Cast Vehicles

Hidden Location, MS – Last year a variety of 1:64-scale die cast vehicles branded with the Lunati® Bootlegger logo flew off Walmart shelves. Now M2 Machines is back with a limited run of new 1:24-scale Bootlegger die casts.

Muscle car enthusiasts and collectors alike now have several more pieces to add to their collection thanks to M2's release of two iconic vehicles branded with the Lunati Bootlegger Outlaw Camshafts logo. A black 1969 Chevrolet Camaro Z/28 and 1970 Dodge Challenger R/T HEMI are set for wide release in Walmart stores around the globe.

As part of the program, M2 Machines is also releasing the Camaro and Challenger with green wheels and bumpers as rare "Chase" vehicles. Only 250 of each piece are available worldwide. A silver version of the '70 Challenger is also available as an ultra-rare "Super Chase" vehicle. Just 108 pieces were produced.

As was the case with the 1:64-scale die casts, every version of the larger 1:24-scale option is a highly detailed replica. They each feature die cast bodies with opening doors and real chrome bumpers, along with separate headlights, taillights and hood ornaments. They also have rubber tires and a removable die cast chassis, along with an included display base and acrylic case. All come in a wood-grain package just as the Lunati Bootlegger Camshafts designed for the die cast's real-life counterparts.

The 1:24-scale cars from M2 Machines will be available on Walmart shelves in late August. A second release of the 1:64-scale versions will be available soon.
