Inglese™ unveils new line of die cast valve covers for SBC, BBC and SBF engines, finished in a Black-Wrinkle powder coat with a polished, laser-etched logo

This new line of premium die cast aluminum valve covers brings a whole new level of style and function to your engine. The sleek and durable Black-Wrinkle powder coated finish with the polished, laser-etched logo is sure to provide that performance look for which Inglese™ is known. Inglese™ valve covers are a perimeter bolt style and feature breathers with laser-etched logos, two black rubber grommets and installed baffles that are welded in place to ensure no oil enters the breathers. The breathers on both valve covers allow for proper crankcase ventilation. Both stylish and functional, these covers were designed to be tall enough to provide the necessary clearance to accommodate aftermarket valve trains.

Manufactured and packaged in the U.S.A., these powder coated, die cast aluminum valve covers from Inglese™ offer a sleek, high-performance look combined with rigid durability and unmatched reliability. They are the perfect addition to any high-performance engine and will look great next to your Inglese™ induction system. Gaskets are not included.
